 CELLAR

CHARDONNAY | Domaine Daniel - Etienne Defaix

$22 (3oz) / $36 (5oz)

Chablis, 1er Cru "Les Lys",

Burgundy, FR '03

Daniel-Etienne Defaix's ancestors were already cultivating the vine in the sixteenth century at the Château de Faix near Avallon, not far from Chablis. Etienne-Paul Defaix installed the family as vigneron in Chablis during the eighteenth century. Today, Daniel-Etienne Defaix continues this long family tradition as he maintains a domaine of 26 hectares planted exclusively to Chardonnay and primarily in a series of vineyard sites classified 1er Cru.

The Domaine Daniel-Etienne Defaix releases its wine to the market only after obtaining several years of bottle age at which point the market has the pleasure of having access to wines that more fully express the remarkable and unique terroir that is Chablis.

NEBBIOLO | Cantina Bartolo Mascarello

$40 (3oz) / $65 (5oz)

Barolo, Piemonte, IT '12

In 1990, Italy's Noble Red Wines author Sheldon Wasserman called Bartolo Mascarello's hand-crafted Barolo "the single finest Barolo made." And in the years before his death, Bartolo was still considered a giant among barolisti—his wine a touchstone for those who prize the beauty of traditionally made Barolo. For more than half a century, Bartolo Mascarello was a towering figure in the Langhe. From just after World War II until his death in March, 2005, he made consistently monumental Baroli—rich, supple, intensely aromatic and deeply colored—that have stood the test to time.

Today, Bartolo's daughter Maria Teresa—who took over Cantina Bartolo Mascarello in 2005—makes wine just as her father did. In fact—while every bit as committed to her family's methods and traditions as Bartolo was—she may have brought even greater elegance and consistency to the wines through her own subtle refinements.

TEMPRANILLO | Muga Prado Enea, Gran Reserva

$18 (3oz) / $30 (5oz)

Rioja, SP '04

Bodegas Muga is located in the historical Barrio de La Estación (railway station district) in Haro. The facilities are two centuries old, built mainly of stone and oak. Tempranillo is considered to have its origins in the area of La Rioja. It is the most prestigious Spanish variety because of its quality potential. Following traditional methods, Bodegas Muga uses oak throughout all the wine-making process, fermentation and ageing. As a matter of fact, Bodegas Muga is one of the very few Spanish wineries that employ three coopers plus a "cubero" (who specializes in the big casks). They are in charge of working with the oak wood that will finally give that unique and personal touch to the wines. Gran Reserva Rioja wines have been aged for at least two years in cask and three years in the bottle.

SYRAH | Louis Barruol

$24 (3oz) / $49 (5oz)

Côtes Rôtie, "La Boisselée",Rhône Valley, FR '12

Louis Barruol is an indefatigable force in the Rhône. He is the fourteenth generation in his family to be making wine in this sixteenth-century domaine in Gigondas. On what was once the site of a Roman villa, Louis' cellars show spectacular remains of old, Roman vinification vats carved into the limestone. Here, Louis works with different grape varietals from the Rhône, vinifying each parcel separately. He has recently taken to acting as a micro-négociant, working closely with top growers in the northern part of the region who still work with Sérine, an ancient version of Syrah. Producing only a few precious barrels of each cuvée, Louis is helping to save the authenticity and the identity of many great old Côte Rôtie parcels, and now those of Hermitage and Crozes, by keeping them out of the hands of the large, corporate négociants in the area. Côte Rôtie translates to "roasted slope" in English, referring to the steep, hot slopes in the Northern Rhône Valley - perfect for Syrah.

our love for
Grower Champagne

More than any other wine region in the world, Champagne France has turned into a luxury brand as a region and for its wine. At the heart of this region are humble farms that have stayed true to their love of the region through many hardships and wars over the years. The way Champagne is produced – méthode champenoise – dates back to 1662, yet only in the last twenty years have we seen these small farmers take a stance to produce artistically crafted wines that showcase their villages within the greater champagne region. The wines are true expressions of the region and the people who farm its land.

CHENIN BLANC

our love for
Chenin Blanc

Chenin Blanc is a bit of a chameleon – as it has the potential to have many different personalities and styles. In the right hands, the wine can be produced to be light and vibrantly bone dry; yet by another producer, the wine can be rich, textured and sometimes sweet. Famed from the Loire Valley in France and small regions such as Montlouis, Vouvray, and Jasnières, Chenin Blanc truly stands on its pedestal and takes its place among the world's great white wines.

our love for
Syrah

Every varietal — when produced by real artisans who care deeply about the farming of their vines, as well as a dedication to passionate winemaking — has the potential to produce wines that can take your breath away. Syrah should be rustic but also have a delicate side. Great producers work hard to farm steep vineyards and work their vines by hand. The motherland is the Northern Rhône; and the rocky slopes of Côte Rôtie, Hermitage, Crozes-Hermitage, Cornas and Saint-Joseph also truly have a voice and an identity that can inspire.
